We are pleased to inform New Jersey companies about a business mission from Shandong Province, China to visit Newark, New Jersey on Monday, November 23, 2009. The mission will consist of representatives from provincial and municipal governments and business executives from cities of Jinan, Heze, Zaozhuang, Rizhao, Weifang, and Qingzhou in the province.

The Shandong delegates are seeking cooperation with US companies in trade and investment. The delegation will include but not limited to the following industries: chemical, petrochemical, construction, textile, papermaking, and fertilizer. Please click here for a complete list of the delegation and company profiles.

Located in China's most developed east-coast region, Shandong offers a large consumer market potential of 94 million people. China's 2nd largest economy, Shandong has been maintaining an economic growth rate of more than 10% for 18 consecutive years.

Shandong provincial government is currently promoting business cooperation in areas of hi-tech, advanced manufacturing, environmental protection and service industries, as well as encouraging Shandong-based companies to establish presence overseas.

To register for this seminar, please send an e-mail to: jchang@njeda.com, prior to November 19, 2009, with the following information: company name, address, attendee name, e-mail address, and telephone numbers. Seats are limited. First come, first served.
